

Amended water supply work approval – Inactive works

Use this form to apply to amend a water supply work approval to specify the work is inactive or withdraw the work's inactive status.

For information about water supply work approvals, go to water.dpie.nsw.gov.au/licensing-and-trade/approvals.

Water supply work approvals allow you to construct and use a work which takes water from a river, lake or aquifer. Examples of water supply works are water pumps, water bores, dams, weirs, irrigation channels, banks and levees.

A water supply work approval may specify that the work is 'inactive' if the work:

- was constructed to take water from a surface water source, such as a river or lake, and
- the work is not capable of taking water.

Having an 'inactive' work

Approval holders who are not using an authorised water supply work to take water may wish to amend their approval to specify that their work is 'inactive' so they do not need to comply with any mandatory condition on the approval that metering equipment be installed, used and properly maintained. This 'inactive' status can be withdrawn by amending the approval.

Who can apply?

An approval holder can apply for the amendment of their water supply work approval to specify that the work is 'inactive', or to withdraw that specification.

Who can use this application form?

Responsibilities for granting and managing water supply work approvals and water use approvals are shared between the Department of Planning and Environment (the department) and WaterNSW.

This application form is for use by the department's customers:

- government agencies, including other NSW government agencies, local councils and the Commonwealth
- state-owned corporations
- water utilities, water supply authorities and licensed network operators under the Water Industry Competition Act 2006

- mining activities
- irrigation corporations
- public schools and hospitals
- Aboriginal communities and businesses.

If you are not a customer of the department, your one-stop-shop for licensing services including water supply work approvals and water use approvals is WaterNSW. Go to www.waternsw.com.au.
