Hi Verushka,

I received this belated comment from one of our council members – hope it might still be of value:

The Strategy does not really address the issue of infrastructure and its role in supporting planning and development from a council planning level nor council's consumption and reliance on water for maintaining parks, trees and gardens etc. Also its partnership role in education and information sharing on water use and circular economy. We can play a big role in demonstrating and promoting best practice water conservation and efficiency.

Thanks very much.

Regards,
Sanjiv

Thank you for your submission to the Department of Planning, Industry and Environment regarding the draft Greater Sydney Water Strategy.

Your feedback will be taken into consideration as we develop the final strategy and the department will provide responses to issues raised by the community when we release the final strategy in early 2022.

Thank you for taking the time to provide feedback.

Regards,
